FCCP's Mission

The Funders' Committee for Civic Participation (FCCP) believes that a vibrant and inclusive democracy is critical to the health of our nation. FCCP serves leaders in the philanthropic community working to further this vision with heightened attention to issues of equity and historically disenfranchised and underrepresented communities. Its members support non-partisan efforts to engage voters, eliminate structural barriers to voting, advance reforms to improve government and electoral systems and inspire public involvement in civic life. The Funders' Committee for Civic Participation:

- Provides programming that allows grantmakers to strategize and collaborate together, examine best practices and identify gaps in the field.
- Expands support for civic engagement work by collaborating with issue-based and constituency-based funders and organizing donors.
- Informs and improves the practice of voter engagement and election administration funding by serving as an information hub and advancing the provision of new tools and information to funders.
